

Brocade[®] Select 10G SWL, 10G LWL, 16G LWL, 16G ELWL, 40G SR4, and 100G SR4 Obsolete Optics

End-of-Availability Notice, Version 1.0

Brocade, a Broadcom company, is announcing End-of-Availability (EOA) for a set of obsolete optics, including Brocade[®] 10G SWL, 10G LWL, 16G LWL, and 16G ELWL SFP+ optics, plus 40G SR4 and 100G SR4 QSFP optics. Note that for 16G LWL connectivity, backward-compatible 32G and 64G LWL optics remain available, supporting 16G speeds, but neither of these optics supports 4G speeds. For 16G ELWL connectivity, 32G and 64G ELWL optics are available. The appropriate replacement part numbers have been provided in the table that follows.

There is no End-of-Support (EOS) date set for these part numbers. The EOS dates are a function of the End-of-Life plans for the switches that these optics would be inserted into. Support for these optics will align with the product that these are installed in and will continue to be available for customers with a valid support contract, subject to support policies for Brocade products.
